The following are decimeter lines which are known to be in operation in East Germany.

- a. A decimeter line on the 25 centimeter wave from Berlin to Dresden. It has been in operation for about 18 months. The line is for telephony only. It starts at the Fernamt (Main Exchange) in Dottistrasse, East Berlin, and goes from there by wire to a station on the Mueggelturm, on the Mueggelsee. Relay stations are located in Stuelpe, Kronsdorf, Oschatz and Borgsdorf. The terminal is in Dresden-Hellerau.
- b. A decimeter line on an unknown wave length for the exclusive use of the Volksarmee goes from Oranienburg to Nauen.
- c. A television decimeter line runs from Berlin to Leipzig. 1/
